Medical Advisor Johnson And Johnson Summer Internship

Description

Cookham Johnson and Johnson Summer Internship program is a great opportunity for students to gain practical experience in the medical field. The Medical Advisor role is part of this program, where the intern works with the medical affairs team to ensure the safety and efficacy of the company's products.

Responsibilities

As a Medical Advisor intern, you will be responsible for supporting the medical affairs team in various activities. These include reviewing scientific literature, assessing adverse events, and collaborating with cross-functional teams to ensure the safety and effectiveness of products. Additionally, you will be responsible for conducting research and analysis to support medical affairs activities.

Qualifications

To apply for this position, you must be enrolled in a medical or science-related field at a recognized university or college. You should have a strong academic background and excellent communication skills, both written and verbal. Additionally, you must have a basic understanding of the medical industry and be able to work in a team environment.

Experience

While previous experience in a medical affairs role is not required, it can be an added advantage. Any experience working in a medical or science-related field can be beneficial, including research or clinical experience. Additionally, experience working in a team environment or project management can be helpful.

Skills

The ideal candidate should possess strong analytical skills, attention to detail, and the ability to work independently. You should be proficient in Microsoft Office, including Word, Excel, and PowerPoint. Additionally, you should be able to manage multiple tasks simultaneously and prioritize your workload effectively.

Job Benefits

As an intern at Johnson and Johnson, you will have the opportunity to work with a team of experts in the medical field. You will gain hands-on experience working on projects that have a direct impact on patients' lives. Additionally, you will have the opportunity to network with professionals in the industry and potentially secure future job opportunities.
